911ai.com for Business Customers

The current information provided to most 911 centers during an emergency is at best the location of the building the call is originating from. Often facilities with multiple buildings will display the wrong address. Frequently a business doesn't find out their 911 phone information is wrong, until it's too late.

New hardware technology and creative software provide a solution to this problem. We call the solution 911ai.com. The "ai" stands for Additional Information, exactly what 911ai.com provides. Critical location information for example, provides the floor and room number of a phone calling 911. Often 911 callers are unable to report or don't know their location. 911ai.com provides this information directly on the 911 call takers computer screen as the call is received. A business will know their information is correct and up-to-date because they enter the information and maintain it all via a simple web page interface.
