Call Notifications

A very powerful function of 911ai.com is its ability to send notifications to persons that a 911 call has been made and from where, instantly. Notifications can be sent via email, pager, or cell phone text messaging.

911ai.com "additional information" is not yet available everywhere. Currently only if you are served by a 911 center that has made arrangements to accept the 911ai.com data. Our web site www.911ai.com shows if the service is available in your zip code.

If you have questions about how 911ai.com will work with your existing telephone system, please contact 911ai.com or use the web site to find a certified 911ai.com vendor in your area.

- Every 911 call can provide exact location information.
- Building, Floor, Room number, Type of Use.
- User Name, Medical information.
- Contact Information and much more.

911ai.com is a subscriber web based product that has been designed to solve the inherent problem with not providing emergency services an exact location or detail personal information from the 911 calling number. The 911ai.com "additional information" product is so unique in it's very tight integration with hardware at the 911 centers and ease of use by the subscriber that the US Patent office is issuing a patent for the whole 911ai.com system.

Many schools, hospitals, institutions, government facilities already have the capabilities in there existing telephone equipment to send the correct coding on each 911 call so no additional hardware or software is needed. If this is the case with your facility all that required (providing your local 911 center has made provisions to receive the 911ai.com data) is to subscribe for the service at the 911ai.com web site. Then enter the 911 information to be associated with each telephone. Adding additional telephones, Changing existing information is also very easy and all done using a simple web browser. Within seconds after your facility has subscribed and entered you telephone additional information, it will be available to be displayed to the 911 call taker. Your information is easy to setup and maintain. 911ai.com works with your analog, digital, VoIP, wireless, and cellular phones. All information, even notifications are effective immediately when entered.
